DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 2-14 are objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant has renumbered the claims in a manner inconsistent with Rule 126 as claims 2-14 have been given new numbers in accordance with new claim 2. In spite of this deviation, the claims are examined below in order to expedite prosecution.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-6, 8-11, 13, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eaton, US 1,477,111, in view of Phillips et al. and Robertson.

Eaton has the shelter as claimed, lacking only the raised floor and pivotal front and rear support members. The former is disclosed by Phillips et al. at 14 and the latter by Robertson at 66/68, all in the same field of endeavor. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in Eaton a raised floor as taught by Phillips et al. in order to provide increased storage and pivotal front and rear supports as taught by Robertson in order to quickly collapse and erect the shelter.

As to claim 2, Phillips et al. has cross beams 30 and 50.

Art Unit: 3612

As to claim 3, Eaton has support member 32.

As to claims 4 and 5, Eaton has tension bar 26 and slide arm 27.

As to claim 6, see hinges 24,25, and 59 of Eaton.

As to claim 9, the rear support of Robertson is an A-shaped frame and the front support has posts 66.

As to claim 10, Robertson has locking means 130.

As to claim 11, Robertson's bracket 74 is fastened to the floor through the side wall. In addition, Eaton teaches floor mounting of the rear support member. Note claim 11 missing an indefinite article prior to "bracket".

As to claim 13, Eaton has platform 50.

As to claim 14, applicant admits this structure is known in paragraph 0039.

4. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eaton in view of Phillips et al. and Robertson as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Neville.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in the references above a slidable bed support as taught by Neville in figures 4 and 5 in order to reduce the effort of movement of the bunk.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3612

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Connell and Smith teach bunk support. Palmer discloses frame, tailgate and hinge support.

Priority

7. It is noted that no copy of the priority document is present in the scanned application as filed.
